Cambridge Leadership Associates Announces New Senior Associate Joins Firm

Cambridge, MA, June 25, 2007- Cambridge Leadership Associates (CLA), a leading provider of leadership consulting services, announced today that Kristin von Donop has joined the firm as a Senior Associate.

With more than 20 years of experience helping clients achieve strategic change, Ms. von Donop will work with CLA's clients in the public and private sectors to develop leadership capacity in their organizations. She is adept at applying strategies and practices that help clients identify their most significant challenges, generate new solutions and exercise the leadership required to implement them.

Prior to joining CLA, Kristin held senior consultant roles at IBM headquarters in Armonk, NY and with Accenture's NY office. Kristin holds a BS in International Business from Northeastern University and MS in Industrial and Organizational Psychology from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

"We are very excited to have Kristin join the firm and to have her depth of organizational experience and knowledge to offer to clients." said Liz Nill, Managing Director.

CLA was founded in 2002 by Harvard University professors Dr. Ronald Heifetz and Marty Linsky following the release of Leadership on the Line, a top-selling business book in the US and abroad, which has been translated into eight languages. Heifetz and Linsky are members of the Board of Directors of CLA, along with Ms. Nill.

CLA develops leadership cultures for changing organizations. Through consulting and training in the skills and behaviors of Adaptive Leadership™, the firm works to expand and enhance the leadership that organizations need to change and thrive in complex environments. Professional services include leadership consulting, workshops, training, and keynote presentations. Headquartered in Cambridge, Mass., the firm has an extensive client list nationally and internationally. www.cambridge-leadership.com.
